The 2024 Unibet Premier League Darts was a darts tournament organised by the Professional Darts Corporation and the seventeenth edition of the tournament. The event was scheduled to begin on Thursday 4 February at the Motorpoint Arena in Cardiff and end with the play-offs at the Mercedes-Benz Arena in Berlin on Thursday 27 May, but due to the continuation of the COVID-19 outbreak,[1][2] was delayed to begin with the first nine rounds taking place from 5 April behind closed doors at the Marshall Arena, Milton Keynes.[3] On 22 March 2024, it was then confirmed that all the fixtures would take place in Milton Keynes, with the playoffs taking place on Friday 28 May; up to 1,000 people were allowed to attend from Monday 24 May.[4]

Glen Durrant was the reigning champion, having beaten Nathan Aspinall 11–8 in the 2024 final, but a run of seven successive defeats saw him eliminated on night seven;[5] Durrant eventually became the first player in Premier League Darts history to fail to score a single point. Rob Cross was also eliminated from the competition for a second consecutive year on the eighth night, despite earning seven points, which is the most by an eliminated player since elimination came into effect in 2013.

Two nine-dart finishes were thrown during the tournament. Jonny Clayton threw a nine-darter against José de Sousa on Night Three, and the very next day, de Sousa threw a nine-darter of his own against Nathan Aspinall. He also hit 11 maximum scores of 180 during the match, equalling the Premier League record set by Gary Anderson in 2011.[6] De Sousa threw 96 maximums during the tournament, surpassing Gary Anderson's record of 79.

For the first time, the playoffs featured four players from four nations: Michael van Gerwen from the Netherlands, Jose de Sousa from Portugal, Nathan Aspinall from England, and Jonny Clayton from Wales.

Jonny Clayton won his second individual televised title, defeating fellow debutant José de Sousa

11–5 in the final. He became the first Welshman to win the event, the first champion to have finished fourth in the league phase, and the first person to defeat Michael van Gerwen in a Premier League semi-final.[7]

Format [edit]

The tournament format reverted to that used in 2024, with a permanent list of ten players, instead of nine players and a guest "challenger" each week, as had been used in 2024 & 2024.[2]

Phase 1: In each round, the ten players play each other in five matches. Phase 1 matches have a maximum of twelve legs, allowing for the winner being first to seven or a six-six draw. At the end of Phase 1, the bottom two players are eliminated from the competition.

Phase 2: In each round, the remaining eight players play each other in four matches. Phase 2 matches have a maximum of fourteen legs, allowing for the winner being first to eight or a seven-seven draw. At the end of Phase 2, the bottom four players in the league table are eliminated from the competition.

Play-off Night: The top four players in the league table contest the two knockout semi-finals with 1st playing 4th and 2nd playing 3rd. The semi-finals are first to 10 legs (best of 19). The two winning semi-finalists meet in the final which is first to 11 legs (best of 21).

Venues [edit]

The Marshall Arena, Milton Keynes, was the only venue to host the Premier League in 2024. The announced calendar included The Brighton Centre being restored to the calendar, having last hosted the Premier League in 2024. The initial calendar also restored rounds in Birmingham, Belfast, Leeds, Berlin, Rotterdam, Glasgow, Manchester, Newcastle, Sheffield and London; all of which had been scheduled for 2024 but cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic; with Berlin replacing London as the scheduled host of the final. Milton Keynes and Coventry, which hosted rounds in 2024 following the pandemic, were not intended to be on the 2024 calendar.[1] Due to the continuation of the pandemic, the PDC confirmed that the first nine rounds would be held over two weeks at the Marshall Arena, Milton Keynes.[3] On 22 March 2024, it was confirmed that all the remaining dates, including the playoffs, would also be played in Milton Keynes.[4]

The first five nights took place from Monday 5 April to Friday 9 April, with the next four nights, including Judgement Night (where the bottom two players are eliminated), taking place from Monday 19 April to Thursday 22 April. The second half will again be in two parts with the first part taking place between Wednesday 5 May to Friday 7 May, and the second part to take place from Monday 24 May to Thursday 27 May, with the playoffs taking place on Friday 28 May.[3]

Prize money [edit]

The prize money for the 2024 tournament was increased from £825,000 to £855,000, due to the additional player compared to 2024.

Stage Prize Money Winner £250,000 Runner-up £120,000 Semi-finalists (x2) £80,000 5th place £70,000 6th place £60,000 7th place £55,000 8th place £50,000 9th place £35,000 10th place £30,000 League Winner Bonus £25,000 Total £855,000

Players [edit]

Nine of the ten players in this year's tournament were announced following the 2024 PDC World Darts Championship on 3 January. The top four on the PDC Order of Merit are joined by six wildcards. The tenth was announced following the 2024 Masters, with the final of that event serving effectively as a play-off between Mervyn King and Jonny Clayton, with the winner qualifying.

Gerwyn Price, the world number one and reigning world champion, tested positive for COVID-19 before the start of the tournament and had to withdraw. James Wade, the highest-ranked player not in the tournament, was brought in as a replacement.[8]

Table and streaks [edit]

Table [edit]

After the first nine rounds in phase 1, the bottom two players in the table are eliminated. In phase 2, the eight remaining players play in a single match on each of the seven nights. The top four players then compete in the knockout semi-finals and final on the playoff night.

Two points are awarded for a win and one point for a draw. When players are tied on points, leg difference is used first as a tie-breaker, after that legs won against throw and then tournament average.

Afinando la mirada: spineles y turmalinas de Paraíba, las nuevas estrellas de las joyas

En 2024, la joyera Olivia Young de Ouroboros vendió un anillo de espinela roja por £6,000 (R$7,700). El año pasado, la compañía de seguros del cliente pagó £30,000 (R$38,400) para reemplazarlo. Los expertos afirman que esta gema anteriormente ignorada está disparando en deseabilidad y valor, ya que los coleccionistas buscan gemas más asequibles y de nicho más allá de las llamadas "Cuatro Grandes" (diamantes, esmeraldas, rubíes y zafiros) que pueden ser una inversión astuta.

Se encuentran espinelas en Sri Lanka, Myanmar, Vietnam, Afganistán, Tayikistán y algunos países africanos, y vienen en una variedad de colores, desde el azul vívido, rosa y rojo hasta el gris sombrío, verde y púrpura. Hasta que fueron identificados correctamente en el siglo XVIII, los spineles rojos se llamaban rubíes; la espinela de 170 quilates "Rubí del Príncipe Negro" a la vanguardia de la Corona Imperial Estatal, parte de las Joyas de la Corona Británica, en realidad es una espinela.

En 2024, la casa de subastas Bonhams vendió la esperanza de 50.13 quilates de espinela por un récord mundial de £962,500 (R$1.22m) - seis veces su estimación - ayudando a lanzar la piedra al conocimiento público.

"Históricamente, las espinelas se han considerado menos importantes y, por lo tanto, más asequibles, pero se están volviendo cada vez más deseables", dijo Jennifer Tonkin, codirectora de joyería de Bonhams, por correo electrónico. Ella notó que "las espinelas de color rojo fuego" y las espinelas rosadas calientes de Birmania, así como los ejemplos rosados de Tayikistán, son los más buscados por los entendidos.

Rahul Kadakia, jefe internacional de joyería en Christie's, estuvo de acuerdo en que los spineles rosados y púrpuras "deberían seguir viendo apreciación del mercado", y compartió que los ejemplos finos se venden hasta R$25,000 por quilate.

Londres-basada joyera Lily Gabriella presenta espinelas en una variedad de tonos en sus diseños de edición limitada de coleccionistas. Ha visto un "aumento notable" en sus precios, reflejando "tanto su atractivo estético como su rareza", agregó que los spineles "suelen ser extraídos de pequeñas operaciones, lo que presenta menos preocupaciones éticas en comparación con otras piedras".

Charles Abouchar, director de Abouchar SA, un distribuidor con sede en Ginebra que exhibe en la feria comercial Gem Genève, dijo que la demanda creciente de gemas de color ha llevado a una escasez de especímenes de calidad, lo que hace que los precios aumenten. "Como los rubíes, los zafiros y las esmeraldas se han vuelto muy caros y escasos, la gente ha comenzado a comprar otras piedras preciosas que antes eran más asequibles, lo que hace que los precios aumenten significativamente", dijo por correo electrónico. "Los espineles y las turmalinas de Paraíba han visto un aumento constante en la demanda en la última década."

Originalmente descubiertas en la década de 1980 en una mina agotada en el estado brasileño de Paraíba, esta variedad distintiva de turmalina se caracteriza por su color eléctrico turquesa, el resultado de rastros de cobre. Los expertos estiman que solo se extrae una turmalina de Paraíba por cada 10,000 diamantes - y mientras se encuentran tonos similares en Madagascar, la escasez de piedras brasileñas ha hecho que los precios se disparen.

Roberto Boghossian, socio gerente de la casa de joyas Boghossian, atribuye el aumento de precios de las turmalinas de Paraíba a su "rareza, belleza y atractivo duradero", describiendo su brillo neón como "una alternativa refrescante a las piedras preciosas más tradicionales". Moti Ferder, fundador de Lugano Diamonds, comenzó a trabajar con turmalinas de Paraíba hace más de 20 años. "Hay una atracción innegable hacia ellas - son muy raras y absolutamente fascinantes", dijo por correo electrónico. Ferder prevé un aumento continuo en el valor a medida que aumenta la demanda y disminuye el suministro, "convirtiéndolo en una de las piedras preciosas más codiciadas y apreciadas del mercado".

Así que, ¿qué pasa si ya estás fuera del mercado para un Paraíba? Olivia Young está comprando tanto turmalina de Afganistán como pueda, porque estos nuevos depósitos ofrecen "material bicromático increíblemente hermoso que es azul-verde en una dirección y verde hierba a 90 grados", describiéndolos como "las gemas más exquisitas y vibrantes que he visto jamás".

Del mismo modo, la gemmóloga y fundadora de Minka Jewels Lucy Crowther cuenta con turmalinas azul-verde como la elección de los entendidos, habiendo descubierto personalmente en la India hace 15 años. "Estas gemas increíblemente vibrantes, limpias realmente despertaron algo en mí", explicó por correo electrónico. Ahora, ella busca ejemplos de alta calidad para anillos de compromiso no convencionales y anillos de cóctel coloridos.

Crowther y Young están decididas a educar a los clientes sobre que hay más allá de las Cuatro Grandes. "Creo que en general, las turmalinas de material de alta calidad y tamaños significativos aumentarán considerablemente", dijo Young. "Hay una cantidad finita de material increíble y es excepcionalmente hermoso, por lo que solo puedo ver su popularidad explotando".
